Convocation of the Annual General Meeting

We invite our shareholders to the regular shareholders’ meeting, which will be held on Tuesday, 17 March 2020 at 10:00 a.m. at the Gesellschaftshaus Palmengarten, Palmengartenstraße 11, in 60325 Frankfurt am Main, Germany.

I. Agenda

1. Presentation of the adopted annual financial statements of DIC Asset AG and the approved consolidated financial statements as of 31 December 2019, the consolidated management and group management report, the report of the Supervisory Board for the fiscal year 2019 and the explanatory report of the Management Board on the information in accordance with Section 289a para. 1 and Section 315a para. 1 of the German Commercial Code (Handelsgesetzbuch, HGB)

The documents submitted with respect to item 1 of the agenda can be viewed on the company’s website under http://www.dic-asset.de/general-meeting/ from the time the shareholders’ meeting is convened. The same applies to the proposal of the Management Board for the appropriation of the net profit. The documents will also be available at the shareholders’ meeting and will be explained verbally. The Supervisory Board approved the annual financial statements and the consolidated financial statements drawn up by the Management Board in accordance with Sections 171, 172 of the German Stock Corporation Act (Aktiengesetz, AktG). The annual financial statements are thus adopted. In accordance with the statutory provisions, therefore, no resolution of the shareholders’ meeting with respect to item 1 of the agenda has been scheduled.

2. Resolution on the use of net profit

The Management Board and the Supervisory Board propose to use DIC Asset AG’s net profit of EUR 53,230,445.87 as reported as of December 31, 2019 as follows:

<td>Distribution of a dividend of EUR 0.66 per share entitled to dividends with a due date on 23 April 2020</td>

The dividend will be paid at the shareholder’s discretion either (i) exclusively in cash or (ii) for part of the dividend to settle the tax liability in cash and for the remaining part of the dividend in the form of no-par value shares of the company (hereinafter also referred to as the “scrip dividend”) or (iii) for part of his shares in cash and for the other part of his shares as a scrip dividend. The details of the cash distribution and the option for shareholders to choose the scrip dividend are set out in a separate document in accordance with the Article 1 para. 4 lit. h), para. 5 lit. g) of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (prospectus-exempting document). This document will be made available to shareholders on the company’s website under http://www.dic-asset.de/general-meeting/index.php and will include, in particular, information on the number and type of shares and explanations of the reasons and details of the share offer.

The dividend amount and the amount to be carried forward on new account in the above resolution proposal on the appropriation of profits are based on the share capital entitled to dividends of EUR 79,071,549.00, divided into 79,071,549 no-par value shares at the time the shareholders’ meeting is convened.

The number of shares entitled to dividends may change until the date the resolution on the use of net profit is made. In this case, the Management Board and Supervisory Board will submit to the shareholders’ meeting a correspondingly adjusted resolution proposal on the appropriation of profits, which continues to provide for a dividend of EUR 0.66 per no-par value share entitled to dividends; the offer to receive the dividend in cash instead of as a scrip dividend remains unaffected. The adjustment is carried out as follows: If the number of shares entitled to dividends is reduced and thus the amount of the dividend is reduced, the amount to be carried forward on new account increases accordingly. If the number of shares entitled to dividends is increased and thus the amount of the dividend is increased as well, the amount to be carried forward on new account will be reduced accordingly.

If the resolution proposal is adopted by the Management Board and the Supervisory Board, the following applies to the payment of the dividend:

Since the dividend for the 2019 fiscal year is paid in part from the taxable profit and in part from the tax deposit account within the meaning of Section 27 of the German Corporation Tax Act ( Köterschaftssteuergesetz) (deposits not paid into the nominal capital), a portion of the dividend is generally subject to taxation, regardless of how the shareholder exercises his option.
3. Resolution on the approval of the actions of members of the Management Board for the fiscal year 2019

The Management Board and Supervisory Board propose that the actions of the members of the Management Board be approved for the fiscal year 2019.

4. Resolution on the approval of the actions of members of the Supervisory Board for the fiscal year 2019

5. Election of the auditor and group auditor for the fiscal year 2020 and the auditor for the audit review of the half-year financial report and a possible audit review of additional financial information

Based on the recommendation of the audit committee, the Supervisory Board proposes to resolve:

Rödl & Partner GmbH, Wirtschaftsprüfungsgesellschaft Steuerberatungsgesellschaft, Nuremberg, Germany, is appointed as the auditor and group auditor for the fiscal year 2020 and as the auditor for the audit review of the condensed financial statements and interim management report for the first half of the fiscal year 2020 (Section 115 para. 5, Section 117 of the German Securities Trading Act (Wertpapierhandelsgesetz, “WpHG”). 7. Resolution on an amendment of the articles of association in section 10 to change the remuneration of the Supervisory Board

According to the current regulation on the remuneration of the Supervisory Board of DIC Asset AG in section 10 para. 1 of the articles of association, which were last amended in 2016, the fixed annual remuneration for the individual members of the Supervisory Board is EUR 25,000.00 and the maximum amount of the variable, dividend-based annual remuneration is EUR 25,000.00. The Chairman receives twice and the Vice-Chairman 1.5 times the amount of the fixed and variable remuneration. Members of the Supervisory Board who are members of a committee of the Supervisory board that has met at least once in the fiscal year currently receive an additional annual remuneration of EUR 5,000.00 per committee but not more than EUR 10,000.00 in total. The chairman of a committee receives twice this additional remuneration.

In order to take into account the increased requirements in terms of content and time spent by the members of the Supervisory Board and the audit committee and in order to enable the company to better recruit qualified candidates for its Supervisory Board, the amounts of the annual fixed and variable remuneration for the individual members of the Supervisory Board and the amount of the annual remuneration for individual committee members are to be increased. The remuneration system as such and the relevant factor used to take into account the chairmanship or deputy chairmanship of the Supervisory Board and the chairmanship of a committee will remain unchanged.

The Management Board and Supervisory Board propose the following resolution:

Section 10 para. 1 of the articles of association is amended and reworded as follows:

“1. For each full fiscal year of their membership in the Supervisory Board, the members of the Supervisory Board shall each receive a fixed remuneration in the amount of EUR 50,000.00, payable after the end of the fiscal year and to be recorded as expenses. In addition, each member shall receive EUR 2,500.00 for each percent of dividend distributed above a percentage of ten percent calculated on the amount of the share capital up to a maximum of EUR 50,000.00. The chairman shall receive twice as much, and the vice-chairman shall receive 1.5 times the amount of the fixed remuneration and the variable remuneration. Members of the Supervisory Board who are members of a committee that has met at least once in the fiscal year shall furthermore receive a remuneration of EUR 10,000.00 per committee for each full fiscal year they serve on this committee up to a maximum of EUR 20,000.00 in total. The chairman of a committee of the Supervisory Board shall receive twice this additional remuneration. For the years in which they took office or ended their term of service, the members of the Supervisory Board shall receive the remuneration pro rata temporis.”

In all other aspects, section 10 of the articles of association remains unchanged.
The above provisions replace the current provisions for the remuneration of the members of the Supervisory Board in section 10 (1) of the articles of association when the amendment to the articles of association becomes effective and is applied for the first time to the fiscal year beginning on 1 January 2020.

We would like to point out that a resolution pursuant to Section 113 para. 3 AktG as amended by the Act Implementing the Second Shareholders' Rights Directive (Gesetz zur Umsetzung der zweiten Aktionärsrechterichtlinie - ARUG II) of 12 December 2019 (Federal Gazette, year 2019, part I, no. 50 of 19 December 2019) is reserved for the 2021 shareholders’ meeting.

8. Resolution on an amendment of the articles of association in section 3 (notice and information) and section 4 (amount and allocation of share capital) in adaptation to the amendments by the Act Implementing the Second Shareholders' Rights Directive

The Act Implementing the Second Shareholders' Rights Directive (Gesetz zur Umsetzung der zweiten Aktionärsrechterichtlinie - ARUG II) of 12 December 2019 (Federal Gazette, year 2019, part I, no. 50 of 19 December 2019) amends, among other things, the provisions of the German Stock Corporation Act regarding the share register (Section 67 AktG) and the announcements to shareholders prior to the shareholders’ meeting (Sections 125, 128 AktG). Pursuant to Section 67 para. 1 AktG, shareholders will in future also be required to provide an electronic address for registration in the share register. The previous provisions on notices for shareholders and their transmission in Sections 125, 128 AktG are no longer applicable or are replaced by new regulations. The amendments in Sections 67, 125, 128 AktG by ARUG II will apply after 3 September 2020 and for the first time to shareholders’ meetings convened after 3 September 2020. They will thus become applicable prior to the shareholders’ meeting of the company in 2021. The corresponding adjustments in sections 3 and 4 of the company's articles of association should therefore be adopted beforehand. The Management Board should ensure that the amendments of the articles of association will not take effect until 3 September 2020 by registering them accordingly in the commercial register.

The Management Board and the Supervisory Board propose the following resolution:

a) Amendment of section 3 para. 3 of the articles of association (notice and information)

Section 3 para. 3 of the articles of association is deleted and not replaced.
In all other aspects, section 3 of the articles of association remains unchanged.

b) Amendment of section 4 (2) of the articles of association (amount and allocation of share capital)

Section 4 para. 2 of the articles of association is amended and reworded as follows:

“2. The shares are registered shares. If, in the case of a capital increase, the resolution to increase the share capital does not specify whether the new shares should be bearer shares or registered shares, they shall be registered shares. The company maintains an electronic share register. Shareholders must provide the company with the information required for registration in the share register in accordance with Section 67 para. 1 sentence 1 AktG as amended. They must furthermore state to what extent the shares are actually owned by the person who is to be registered as owner in the share register.”

In all other aspects, section 4 of the articles of association remains unchanged.

c) Instruction

The Management Board is instructed not to submit the amendments of the articles of association in accordance with a) and b) above for registration in the commercial register before 3 September 2020.

9. Resolution on the revocation of the existing authorized capital 2015 and creation of a new authorized capital 2020 with the possibility of excluding the subscription right and on the corresponding amendment of the articles of association

The authorization of the Management Board, which was resolved by the shareholders’ meeting on 2 July 2015, to increase, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, the share capital of the company by issuing new registered no-par-value shares by up to EUR 34,288,873.00 in return for cash and/or a contribution in kind (authorized capital 2015), which was partially used and of which at the time of the convocation of the shareholders’ meeting EUR 23,795,071.00 are still remaining, expires on 1 July 2020.

Therefore, a new authorized capital of up to EUR 15,814,309.00, which is equivalent to around 20% of the current share capital shall be created.
Before the revocation of the authorized capital 2015 and the new authorized capital take effect, it is intended to still utilize the existing authorized capital 2015 granting subscription rights to the extent required to grant a scrip dividend in accordance with the resolution to be taken with respect to item 2 of the agenda.

b) Creation of a new authorized capital 2020

The Management Board is, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, authorized to increase the share capital until 16 March 2025 by issuing new no-par-value registered shares, either once or multiple times, up to a total of EUR 15,814,309.00 in return for cash and/or a contribution in kind (authorized capital 2020). The number of shares must increase in the same proportion as the share capital.

Generally, shareholders must be granted a subscription right. The shares may also be acquired by one or more banks or companies specified by the Management Board within the meaning of Section 186 (5) sentence 1 AktG with the obligation to offer them to shareholders for subscription (indirect subscription right).

However, the Management Board is, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, authorized to exclude the subscription right of shareholders,

- to exclude fractional amounts from the subscription right of shareholders;
- if the new shares are issued in return for cash, and the issue price of the new shares is not significantly below the market price of already listed shares that are essentially equipped the same. The number of shares that are issued in this way with subscription rights excluded may not exceed 10% of the share capital neither at the time this authorization becomes effective nor at the time it is exercised. The maximum amount of 10% of the share capital must take into account all other shares that are issued or sold without subscription rights during the term of this authorization in direct or appropriate application of Section 186 para. 3 sentence 4 AktG. Shares to be issued to service option and/or conversion rights or conversion obligations arising from option bonds and/or convertible bonds and/or profit participation rights are also to be taken into account, provided these bonds or profit participation rights are issued during the term of this authorization with subscription rights excluded in appropriate application of Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 AktG;

- if the capital increase is made in return for a contribution in kind, in particular for the purpose of acquiring companies, parts of companies, shareholdings in companies or other assets related to an acquisition project, or in the context of mergers or

- to the extent necessary to grant holders or creditors of option and/or convertible bonds with option and/or conversion rights or conversion obligations that were issued or are still to be issued by the company or group companies in which the company holds a 100% stake, either directly or indirectly, a subscription right to new shares in the extent they would be entitled to as a shareholder after the exercise of the option or conversion rights or after the fulfillment of conversion obligations.

The Management Board is, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, authorized to specify the particulars of the share rights, the further details of the capital increase and the terms of the share issue, particularly the issue amount.

The Supervisory Board is authorized to amend the wording of the articles of association accordingly after the utilization of the authorized capital or the expiry of the period for the utilization of the authorized capital.
c) Amendment of the articles of association

Section 5 of the articles of association is repealed and reworded as follows:

"Section 5

Authorized Capital

The Management Board is, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, authorized until 16 March 2025 to increase the share capital, either once or several times, by a total of up to EUR 15,814,309.00 by issuing new no-par-value registered shares in return for cash and/or a contribution in kind (authorized capital 2020). The number of shares must increase in the same proportion as the share capital.

Generally, shareholders must be granted a subscription right. The shares may also be acquired by one or more banks or companies specified by the Management Board within the meaning of Section 186 para. 5, sentence 1 AktG with the obligation to offer them to shareholders for subscription (indirect subscription right).

However, the Management Board is, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, authorized to exclude the subscription right of shareholders,

- to exclude fractional amounts from the subscription right of shareholders;

- if the new shares are issued in return for cash, and the issue price of the new shares is not significantly below the market price of already listed shares that are essentially equipped the same. The number of shares that are issued in this way with subscription rights excluded may not exceed 10% of the share capital neither at the time this authorization becomes effective nor at the time it is exercised. The maximum amount of 10% of the share capital must take into account all other shares that are issued or sold without subscription rights during the term of this authorization in direct or appropriate application of Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 AktG. Shares to be issued to service option and/or conversion rights or conversion obligations arising from option bonds and/or convertible bonds and/or profit participation rights are also to be taken into account, provided these bonds or profit participation rights are issued during the term of this authorization with subscription rights excluded in appropriate application of Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 AktG;

- if the capital increase is made in return for a contribution in kind, in particular for the purpose of acquiring companies, parts of companies, shareholdings in companies or other assets related to an acquisition project, or in the context of mergers or

- to the extent necessary to grant holders or creditors of option and/or convertible bonds with option and/or conversion rights or conversion obligations that were issued or are still to be issued by the company or group companies in which the company holds a 100% stake, either directly or indirectly, a subscription right to new shares in the extent they would be entitled to as a shareholder after the exercise of the option or conversion rights or after the fulfillment of conversion obligations.

The Management Board is, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, authorized to specify the particulars of the share rights, the further details of the capital increase and the terms of the share issue, particularly the issue amount.

The Supervisory Board is authorized to amend the wording of the articles of association accordingly after the utilization of the authorized capital or the expiry of the period for the utilization of the authorized capital."

d) Instruction

The Management Board is instructed to not submit the resolutions and amendments of the articles of association in accordance with the above lit. a), b) and c) for registration in the commercial register until after the execution of the capital increase that is required for granting the scrip dividend in accordance with item 2 of the agenda has been entered in the commercial register. In the event no resolution is made on the appropriation of profits and the granting of scrip dividends under agenda item 2 or in the event a capital increase for the execution of the scrip dividend is definitively not carried out, the instruction referred to in the preceding sentence does not apply.
The written report drafted by the Management Board in accordance with Section 203 para. 2, sentence 2 and Section 186 para. 4, sentence 2 AktG on the reasons for the authorization of the Management Board to exclude the subscription right of shareholders in the utilization of the authorized capital is provided below under II.

We would like to point out that the company will not have any further authorized or conditional capital in addition to the new authorized capital proposed above together with the revocation of the existing authorized capital and the conditional capital proposed under agenda item 10 below. An authorization to acquire treasury shares of up to EUR 6,857,774.00, which is based on the resolution of the shareholders’ meeting of 5 July 2016, will expire on 4 July 2021. Treasury shares acquired on the basis of this authorization may be sold to the same extent excluding subscription rights of shareholders with the exception of an exclusion pursuant to Section 186 (3) sentence 4 AktG.

10. Resolution on the revocation of the existing authorization and the creation of a new authorization to issue convertible and/or option bonds with the option to exclude the subscription right and the repeal of the existing conditional capital 2015 and the creation of new conditional capital 2020 and the corresponding amendment of the articles of association

The authorization to issue convertible and/or option bonds resolved by the company’s shareholders’ meeting on 2 June 2015 under item 8 of the agenda of that meeting expires on 1 July 2020. The company has not exercised the authorization at all, and the conditional capital 2015 in the amount of EUR 34,288,873.00 for securing this authorization is no longer needed. A new authorization to issue convertible and/or option bonds is to be granted, the existing conditional capital 2015, which has lost its function, is to be revoked and new conditional capital 2020 is to be resolved in section 6 of the articles of association. The conditional capital 2020 shall have a total volume of up to EUR 15,814,309.00, which is equivalent to approx. 20% of the current share capital.

a) Revocation of the existing authorization and the conditional capital 2015

The authorization to issue convertible and/or option bonds, as resolved by the shareholders’ meeting of the company on 2 July 2015 under item 8 of the agenda at the time, will be revoked at the same time the authorization to be granted under lit. b) below becomes effective. The conditional capital 2015 created by the same shareholders’ meeting and regulated in section 6 of the articles of association will be revoked at the same time the conditional capital to be created under lit. c) becomes effective.

b) New authorization to issue convertible and/or option bonds

aa) General remarks

The Management Board will, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, be authorized until 16 March 2025 to issue registered convertible bonds and/or option bonds with or without term to maturity (collectively referred to as “bonds”) either once or several times in the total nominal amount of up to EUR 500,000,000.00 and to grant the holders or creditors of bonds conversion or option rights (including with a conversion obligation) to the registered no-par value shares of the company with a prorated amount of the share capital of up to EUR 15,814,309.00 in accordance with the more specific convertible or option bond terms (collectively referred to as the “bond terms”). Bonds can only be issued against cash payment. The bonds can be issued in euros or up to the corresponding value in return in a foreign currency such as the currency of an OECD country. They may also be issued by group companies in which the company holds a 100% stake, either directly or indirectly; in such a case, the Management Board is, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, authorized to guarantee the bonds for the company and to grant the holders or creditors conversion or option rights (including with a conversion obligation) to the company’s registered no-par-value registered shares.

Bond issues may be divided into partial bonds.
bb) Convertible bonds and option bonds

In the event convertible bonds are issued, the holders or creditors will have the right to exchange their partial bonds into registered no-par-value shares of the company in accordance with the more specific terms of the convertible bond to be determined by the Management Board. The conversion ratio is obtained by dividing the nominal amount or the issue amount of a partial bond that is below the nominal amount by the fixed conversion price for a registered no-par-value share of the company. The exchange ratio may be variable. The exchange ratio may be rounded up or down to a full number; furthermore, an additional payment to be made in cash may be specified where appropriate. In addition, fractional shares may be pooled and/or settled in money. The prorated amount of the share capital attributable to the shares to be issued for each convertible bond may not exceed the nominal amount of the partial bond. Section 9 para. 1 AktG and Section 199 para. 2 AktG remain unaffected.

If option bonds are issued, each partial bond is accompanied by one or more options that entitle the holder or creditor to purchase no-par-value registered shares of the company denominated in accordance with the option terms to be specified by the Management Board. The terms of the option may provide that the option price can be paid, either wholly or partially, through a transfer of partial bonds and, where applicable, a cash co-payment. The prorated amount of the share capital attributable to the shares to be issued for each partial bond may not exceed the nominal amount of the partial bond. Section 9 para. 1 and Section 199 para. 2 AktG remain unaffected. The term of the option right may not exceed the term of the option bond. In addition, it may be provided that fractional amounts are pooled and/or settled in money.

cc) Conversion obligation

The convertible bond terms may also provide for a conversion obligation at the end of the maturity term (or at an earlier date). The prorated amount in the share capital of the company's no-par-value registered shares to be issued in the event of a conversion may not exceed the nominal amount of the partial bond. Section 9 para. 1 AktG and Section 199 AktG remain unaffected.
dd) Pre-emptive tender right and right to substitute

The terms of the convertible or option bonds may provide for the right of the company or the group issuing the bond to grant holders or creditors of the bonds new shares or treasury shares of the company or shares of another listed company instead of the payment of an amount due, either wholly or partially.

The terms of the convertible or option bond may also stipulate that, in the event of a conversion or exercise of the option, treasury shares of the company or shares of another listed company may be granted at the discretion of the company or the group company that issues the bond. It may also be provided that the company or the group company that issues the bond does not grant shares in the company to the persons entitled to the conversion or option but pays a sum of money (even partial) which is to be specified in accordance with the following ee).

ee) Conversion or option price

Subject to the following regulations governing bonds with a conversion obligation, a substitution right or a pre-emptive tender right of the issuer of the bonds for the delivery of shares, the conversion price or the option price to be specified must, even in the case of a variable conversion or option price and in application of the following dilution protection regulations - be at least 80% of the volume-weighted average market price of the company's shares at the XETRA closing auction (or a comparable successor system) on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange, namely:

- on the last ten trading days prior to the date of the final decision of the Management Board on the issuance of convertible and/or option bonds, or

- if subscription rights to the bonds are traded, on the days subscription rights are traded, with the exception of the last two trading days of the subscription rights trading, or if the conversion or option price was definitely specified by the Management Board before the beginning of the subscription rights trading, in the period in accordance with the previous bullet point.
In the case of bonds with a conversion obligation, a substitution right or a preemptive right of the issuer of the bonds to deliver the shares, the conversion or option price to be specified must be at least equivalent to either the aforementioned minimum price or the volume-weighted average market price of the company’s shares at the XETRA closing auction (or a comparable successor system) on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange on the ten trading days before or after the date of maturity of the bonds, even if the latter average price is below the minimum price mentioned above.

In any event, the prorated amount in the share capital of the shares of the company to be issued for each partial bond may not exceed the nominal amount of the partial bond. Section 9 para. 1 AktG and Section 199 AktG remain unaffected.

ff) Dilution protection

If, during the conversion or option period, the company increases its share capital and grants a respective subscription right to its shareholders or issues further convertible or option bonds or grants or guarantees conversion or option rights and does not grant the holders of already existing conversion or option rights a subscription right for this purpose, as they would be entitled to as shareholders after exercising the conversion or option right or fulfilling their conversion obligations, or if the share capital is increased due to a capital increase from company funds, the terms of the convertible or option bonds ensure that the economic value of the existing conversion or option rights is unaffected by adjusting the value of the conversion or option rights unless such an adjustment is not already required by law. This applies accordingly in the case of a capital reduction or other capital measures, restructuring, a third-party acquisition of control, an extraordinary dividend or other comparable measures resulting in a dilution of the value of the capital share. Section 9 para. 1 AktG and Section 199 AktG remain unaffected.

gg) Subscription right and exclusion of the subscription right

Generally, shareholders are entitled to a subscription right, i.e., the convertible and/or option bonds are in general to be offered to the shareholders of the company for subscription. The bonds may also be acquired by one or more banks or companies within the meaning of Section 186 para. 5 sentence 1 AktG specified by the Management Board with the obligation to offer them to shareholders for subscription (indirect subscription right). If bonds are issued by a group company in which the company holds a 100% stake, either directly or indirectly, the company ensures that the subscription right is granted to the shareholders of the company accordingly.

However, the Management Board is, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, authorized to exclude the subscription right of shareholders with respect to bonds

- for fractional amounts resulting from the subscription ratio;

- if, after a due review, the Management Board comes to the conclusion that the issue price of the bonds does not significantly fall short of the theoretical market value of the bonds established in accordance with recognized financial mathematical methods. However, this authorization to exclude the subscription right applies only to bonds with a conversion or option right (including with a conversion obligation) for shares which have a total prorated amount of not more than 10% of the share capital that exists at the time this authorization become effective or, if this value is lower, of at the time this authorization is exercised. Shares that are issued or sold during the term of this authorization and that exclude the subscription right in a direct or appropriate application of Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 AktG must be taken into account with respect to this maximum limit of 10% of the share capital. Shares to be issued to service option and/or conversion rights or obligations arising from convertible and/or option bonds and/or participation rights must also be taken into account, provided these bonds or participation rights are issued during the term of this authorization on the basis of another authorization to exclude the subscription right in appropriate application of Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 AktG or

- to the extent this is necessary to grant holders or creditors of option and/or convertible bonds with option and/or conversion rights or conversion obligations that were issued or are yet to be issued by the company or group companies in which the company holds a 100% stake, either directly or indirectly, a subscription right to bonds to the same extent they would be entitled to after the exercise of the option or conversion rights and/or after the fulfillment of conversion obligations as a shareholder.
hh) Further configuration options

The Management Board is, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, authorized to provide further details regarding the issuance and configuration of the bonds, in particular the interest rate and the type of interest rate, issue price, maturity and denomination, dilution protection provisions, conversion or option period as well as the conversion and option price or to specify these in agreement with the bodies of the group companies that issue the bonds.

c) Creation of conditional capital 2020

The share capital of the company shall be conditionally increased by up to EUR 15,814,309.00 by issuing of up to 15,814,309 new no-par-value registered shares (conditional capital 2020). The conditional capital increase serves to grant new shares to holders or creditors of convertible and/or option bonds (“bonds”) which are to be issued by the company or by group companies in which the company has a direct or indirect 100% stake in accordance with the above authorization under lit. b). The conditional capital increase is to be carried out only to the extent that conversion or option rights from such bonds are exercised or the conversion obligations arising from such bonds are fulfilled or insofar as the company or the group company issuing the bond exercises an option to grant new no-par-value registered shares of the company in whole or in part instead of the amount of money due and insofar as the conditional capital is required in accordance with the terms of the convertible or option bond. The new shares will each be issued on the basis of the above authorization under lit. b) at a conversion price or an option price to be specified. The new shares participate in the profit from the start of the fiscal year in which they are issued as a result of the exercise of conversion or option rights or the fulfilment of conversion obligations. The Management Board is, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, authorized to specify the further details of the implementation of the conditional capital increase.
d) Amendment of the articles of association

Section 6 of the articles of association is repealed and reworded as follows:

“Section 6

Conditional capital

The share capital is conditionally increased by up to EUR 15,814,309.00 by issuing up to 15,814,309 new no-par-value registered shares (conditional capital 2020). The conditional capital increase is to be carried out only to the extent that the holders or creditors of conversion rights and/or option rights or conversion obligations, which exist due to the conversion and/or option bonds issued until 16 March 2025 by the company or the group companies, in which the company holds a 100% stake, either directly or indirectly, on the basis of the authorization resolution of the shareholders’ meeting of 17 March 2020, make use of their conversion or option rights or to the extent the holders or creditors of conversion bonds that were issued on the basis of the authorization resolution of the shareholders’ meeting of 17 March 2020 by the company or by group companies in which the company holds a 100% stake, either directly or indirectly, until 16 March 2025, fulfil their conversion obligation or to the extent the company or the group company that issued the bond exercises the option to grant new no-par-value registered shares of the company in whole or in part instead of the amount of money due, in all cases in so far as the conditional capital is required in accordance with the terms of the convertible or option bonds. The new shares must be issued at the conversion or option price to be determined in accordance with the authorization resolution referenced above. The new shares will participate in the profit from the start of the fiscal year in which they are issued as a result of the exercise of conversion or option rights or the fulfilment of conversion obligations. The Management Board is, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, authorized to specify the further details of the implementation of the conditional capital increase.”

The written report of the Management Board in accordance with Section 221 para. 4, sentence 2 and Section 186 para. 4, sentence 2 AktG on the reasons for the authorization of the Management Board to exclude the subscription right of shareholders in the issue of convertible and/or option bonds is provided below under II.
We would like to point out that the company will not have any further authorized or conditional capital in addition to the conditional capital proposed above and the new authorized capital proposed under agenda item 9 above involving the respective repeal of the existing authorized capital. An authorization to acquire treasury shares of up to EUR 6,857,774.00, which is based on the resolution of the shareholders’ meeting of 5 July 2016, will expire on 4 July 2021. Treasury shares acquired on the basis of this authorization may be sold to the same extent excluding subscription rights with the exception of an exclusion pursuant to Section 186 (3) sentence 4 AktG.

II. Reports to the Shareholders’ Meeting

1. Written report of the Management Board in accordance with Section 203 para. 2, sentence 2 and Section 186 para. 4, sentence 2 AktG regarding item 9 of the agenda concerning the reasons for the authorization of the Management Board to exclude the subscription right of shareholders with respect to the authorized capital 2020

The authorized capital 2015, which was approved by the shareholders’ meeting on 2 July 2015, which was partially used at the time the shareholders’ meeting was convened and of which EUR 23,795,071.00 is still remaining, expires on 1 July 2020.

The Management Board and the Supervisory Board propose to the shareholders’ meeting under agenda item 9 the creation of new authorized capital of up to EUR 15,814,309.00 in section 5 of the articles of association.

Before the revocation of the authorized capital 2015 and the new authorized capital become effective, the intention is to utilize the existing authorized capital 2015 with subscription right still to the extent it is required to grant a scrip dividend to the shareholders according to the resolution to be passed in accordance with agenda item 2.

For reasons of flexibility, the new authorized capital can be used for both cash and non-cash capital increases. Shareholders of the company generally have a subscription right in the event of capital increases from authorized capital. The shares may also be acquired by one or more banks or companies specified by the Management Board within the meaning of Section 186 para. 5 sentence 1 AktG with the obligation to offer them to shareholders for subscription (so-called indirect subscription right).
However, the Management Board is, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, authorized to exclude the subscription right of shareholders,

- to exclude fractional amounts from the subscription right of shareholders;

- if the new shares are issued in return for cash, and the issue price of the new shares is not significantly below the market price of already listed shares that are essentially equipped the same. The number of shares that are issued in this way with subscription rights excluded may not exceed 10% of the share capital neither at the time this authorization becomes effective nor at the time it is exercised. The maximum amount of 10% of the share capital must take into account all other shares that are issued or sold without subscription rights during the term of this authorization in direct or appropriate application of Section 186 para. 3 sentence 4 AktG. Shares to be issued to service option and/or conversion rights or conversion obligations arising from option bonds and/or convertible bonds and/or profit participation rights are also to be taken into account, provided these bonds or profit participation rights are issued during the term of this authorization with subscription rights excluded in appropriate application of Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 AktG;

- if the capital increase is made in return for a contribution in kind, in particular for the purpose of acquiring companies, parts of companies, shareholdings in companies or other assets related to an acquisition project, or in the context of mergers or

- to the extent necessary to grant holders or creditors of option and/or convertible bonds with option and/or conversion rights or conversion obligations that were issued or are still to be issued by the company or group companies in which the company holds a 100% stake, either directly or indirectly, a subscription right to new shares in the extent they would be entitled to as a shareholder after the exercise of the option or conversion rights or after the fulfillment of conversion obligations.

The Management Board submits the following report in accordance with Section 203 para. 2 sentence 2 and Sec. 186 para. 4 sentence 2 AktG with regard to this authorization to exclude the subscription right of shareholders with the consent of the Supervisory Board:
(1) Exclusion of the subscription right for fractional amounts

The subscription right may first be excluded for fractional amounts. The purpose of this authorization is to provide a workable subscription ratio for the amount of the respective capital increase. Without the exclusion of the subscription right for fractional amounts, the technical implementation of the capital increase would be considerably more difficult, especially in the event of a capital increase using round amounts. The new shares excluded from the subscription right of shareholders as free fractions will be utilized by the company in the best-possible way, either by being sold on the stock exchange or in any other way. For these reasons, the Management Board and the Supervisory Board consider the authorization to exclude subscription right to be appropriate.

(2) Exclusion of the subscription right if the issue price of the new shares is not significantly below the stock market price and if the shares issued in this way that exclude the subscription right do not exceed 10% of the share capital

In accordance with Section 203 para. 1 and Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 AktG, the subscription right may also be excluded if the new shares are issued against a cash contribution at an amount that does not significantly fall below the exchange price and if the total amount pertaining to the shares issued does not exceed 10% of the share capital, neither at the time the authorization becomes effective nor at the time the authorization is exercised. The authorization enables the company to meet capital requirements even in the short term and to thus make quick and flexible use of market opportunities. The exclusion of the subscription right makes it possible to act quickly without having to perform the more cost and time-consuming subscription right procedure and also makes it possible to place the shares at prices close to the stock market price, i.e., without the usual discount for subscription issues. Such capital increases will also allow the company to attract new investors, both at home and abroad. If the authorization is exercised, the Management Board will, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, specify the discount on the stock market price as low as this is possible at the market conditions prevailing at the time the issue price is definitively determined. The discount on the stock market price will never be higher than 5% of the stock market price.

The scope of the cash capital increase involving the exclusion of subscription rights according to Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 AktG is also limited to 10% of the share capital at the time the authorization becomes effective or if this amount should be lower, at the time the authorization to exclude the subscription right is exercised. This 10% limit includes those shares that were issued or sold during the term of the authorization to exclude the subscription right in the direct or corresponding application of Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 AktG, for example treasury shares. Shares to be issued for servicing option and/or conversion rights or conversion obligations arising from convertible or option bonds or profit participation rights shall be taken into account as well, provided these bonds or profit participation rights were issued during the term of the authorization to exclude the subscription right, in accordance with the application of Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 AktG. This limitation takes into account the shareholders' need to protect their shareholdings from dilution. Since the new shares are placed at a price close to the stock market price, shareholders can purchase shares on the market in order to maintain their participation rate at roughly the same terms.

(3) Exclusion of the subscription right in the event of capital increases in return for a contribution in kind

It shall also be possible to exclude the subscription right of shareholders, if the capital increase is based on a contribution in kind, in particular for the purpose of acquiring companies, parts of companies, shareholdings in companies or other assets related to an acquisition project or in the context of mergers. This gives the company the necessary room for maneuver to seize opportunities to acquire other companies, shareholdings or parts of companies and to perform mergers but also to acquire other important assets for the company that are related to an acquisition in a fast, flexible and liquidity-conserving manner to improve its competitive position and strengthen its profitability. In the context of such transactions, it is often necessary to provide a very high consideration, which is not or cannot be paid in cash. In some cases, the owners of attractive companies or other attractive acquisition properties also demand the buyer's shares in return. In order for the company to be able to acquire such companies or other acquisition properties, it must be able to offer shares in return. Since such an acquisition usually takes place at short notice, it can normally not be decided by the shareholders' meeting, which is generally held only once a year. This requires the creation of authorized capital, which the Management Board can access quickly with the consent of the Supervisory Board. In such a case, the Management Board would ensure that the interests of the shareholders are adequately protected when determining the valuation ratios. In this context, the Management Board takes into account the stock market price of the company's shares. The Management Board will only exercise this authorization if the exclusion of the subscription right is, in the specific case, in the company's best interest. There are currently no concrete acquisition plans for which the possibility of capital increases in kind that exclude the subscription right granted under the proposed authorization would be used.

(4) Exclusion of the subscription right to the extent this is required to grant holders or creditors of option and/or convertible bonds with option and/or conversion rights or conversion obligations a subscription right for new shares to the extent they would be entitled to after the exercise of the options or conversion rights or after the fulfilment of conversion obligations

Finally, the subscription right should be excluded to the extent required to grant the holders or creditors of option and/or convertible bonds which were issued by the company or group companies in which the company directly or indirectly holds a 100% stake, by using the authorized capital, a subscription right to new shares that is equivalent to the subscription right they have after having exercised the option or conversion right or after the fulfilment of a conversion obligation arising from these bonds. In order to make bonds easier to place on the capital market, the corresponding option or bond terms usually include dilution protection. One possibility to provide dilution protection is in the event of subsequent share issues to give the holders or creditors of the bonds a subscription right to new shares the same way as shareholders would be entitled. They are thus put in the same position they would have had if they had been shareholders already. In order to provide the bonds with such a dilution protection, the shareholders' subscription right for new shares must be excluded. This is done to facilitate the placement of the bonds and thus to protect the interest of the shareholders in the best-possible financial structure for the company.

Alternatively, it is possible to reduce just the option or conversion price to achieve a dilution protection, provided this is permitted under the option or bond terms. However, this would be more complicated and costly for the company in terms of the settlement of these bonds. It would also reduce the inflow of capital from the exercise of option and conversion rights or conversion obligations. Another possibility would be to issue bonds without dilution protection. These would be much less attractive to the market, however.
In each individual case, the Management Board and the Supervisory Board will carefully consider whether they will exercise any of the authorizations to increase the capital and exclude the subscription rights of shareholders. They will only take advantage of this possibility if, in the opinion of the Management Board and the Supervisory Board, this is in the best interest of the company and therefore its shareholders.

The Management Board will report on the exercise of the authorization at the shareholders’ meeting that follows a possible issue of shares of the company from the authorized capital that exclude the subscription right.

2. Written report of the Management Board in accordance with Section 221 para. 4, sentence 2 and Section 186 para. 4, sentence 2 AktG regarding item 10 of the agenda concerning the reasons for the authorization of the Management Board to exclude the subscription right of shareholders when issuing convertible and/or option bonds

By resolution of the shareholders’ meeting of the company on 2 July 2015 regarding item 8 of the agenda of that meeting, the Management Board was authorized to issue convertible and/or option bonds on or before 1 July 2020, either once or several times. The conditional capital 2015, which is governed by section 6 of the articles of association, was created to service these bonds. The Management Board has not exercised the existing authorization. Since the authorization to issue convertible and/or option bonds granted by the shareholders’ meeting on 2 July 2015 will expire on 1 July 2020, the existing authorization is to be repealed and replaced by a new authorization. At the same time, the conditional capital 2015 is to be repealed because no convertible and/or option bonds have been issued under the existing authorization and because the conditional capital 2015 is therefore no longer needed. It will be replaced by the new conditional capital 2020 to be approved.

In addition to the traditional options available for borrowing and raising equity, issuing bonds offer the opportunity to use attractive financing alternatives on the capital market, depending on the market situation. The company usually obtains debt capital at low interest rates, which may later be retained as equity. In order to preserve this low-interest debt financing option for the company, a new authorization to issue convertible and/or option bonds is to be created.
The authorization proposed in item 10 of the agenda for the issuance of convertible and/or option bonds (collectively also referred to as "bonds") in the total nominal amount of up to EUR 500,000,000.00 and the creation of the corresponding conditional capital of up to EUR 15,814,309.00 should, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, pave the way to flexible and quick financing possibilities that are in the interest of the company, in particular in the event of favorable capital market conditions. If this authorization is fully exercised, bonds could be issued which, when issued, would grant subscription rights for up to around 20% of the current share capital. The authorization is valid until 16 March 2025.

The possibility of establishing conversion obligations in addition to granting option and/or conversion rights also widens the scope for the design of this financial instrument. The authorization gives the company the necessary flexibility to place the bonds itself or through group companies in which it holds a 100% stake, either directly or indirectly. In addition to euros, bonds can also be issued in other legal currencies such as the currency of an OECD country, with and without maturity limits.

The conversion or option price may not be less than a minimum issue amount, the calculation bases of which are specified. The starting point for calculating the conversion or option price when exercising conversion and/or option rights is the stock market price of the company’s shares, which must correspond to at least 80% of the price of the company’s no-par-value registered shares determined at the time the bonds associated with conversion or option rights are issued. In the event of a conversion obligation, a substitution right or a pre-emptive tender right of the issuer of the bonds for the supply of shares, the conversion or option price of the new shares must be at least either the aforementioned minimum price in accordance with the terms of the bond or correspond to the volume-weighted average market price of the company’s shares at the XETRA closing auction (or a comparable successor system) on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange on the ten trading days before or after the date of maturity of the bonds, even if the latter average price is below the minimum price mentioned above.

Notwithstanding Section 9 para. 1 AktG and Section 199 para. 2 AktG, the conversion or option price may, following a more detailed determination of the conditions underlying the respective bond, be adjusted on the basis of a dilution protection or adjustment sentence if, for example, the company increases its share capital and grants its shareholders a respective subscription right during the conversion or option period, or if the company issues or grants additional convertible or option bonds or guarantees conversion or option rights and does not grant the holders or creditors of existing conversion or option rights in this regard to the same extent they would be entitled to after exercising their conversion or option right or fulfilling their conversion obligations as shareholders, or if the company increases the share capital by means of a capital increase from company funds. This applies accordingly in the case of a capital reduction or other capital measures, restructuring measures, control gained by a third-party, an extraordinary dividend or other comparable measures resulting in a dilution of the value of the shares.

Generally, shareholders must be granted a subscription right. In the case of a placement via group companies, the company must also ensure that the statutory subscription right is granted to the shareholders of the company. In order to facilitate the settlement, a provision is made for the possibility to issue the bonds to one or more banks or companies specified by the Management Board within the meaning of Section 186 para. 5 AktG with the obligation to offer the bonds to shareholders in accordance with their subscription right (so-called indirect subscription right).

(1) Exclusion of subscription right for fractional amounts

However, the Management Board should also, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, be authorized to exclude fractional amounts from the subscription right. Such fractional amounts may result from the amount of the respective issue volume and the presentation of a workable subscription ratio. In such cases, the exclusion of the subscription right for fractional amounts makes it easier to execute the capital measure. The fractions excluded from the shareholders' subscription right are used in a manner that is best for the company either by selling them via the stock exchange or in another way. Due to the limitation to fractional amounts this does not result in any significant dilution for the shareholders; in the opinion of the Management Board, it is objectively justified and appropriate.
(2) Exclusion of the subscription right if the issue price of the bonds does not substantially fall below the theoretical market value, and the shares that exclude the subscription right do not exceed 10% of the share capital

The Management Board is also, with the consent of the Supervisory Board, to be authorized to exclude the subscription right on the legal basis of Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG), i.e., if the bonds are issued in return for cash, and the bonds are issued at a price which does not substantially fall below the theoretical market value of the bonds determined by recognized financial mathematical methods. This possibility of excluding the subscription right gives the company the flexibility to benefit from favorable capital market situations in the short term and, due to the specification of terms that are close to the market price, obtain better terms with regard to interest rates and the issue price of the bonds. The decisive factor for this is that, in contrast to an issue of bonds with subscription rights, the issue price can only be specified immediately prior to the placement, which makes it possible to avoid an increased exchange rate risk for the subscription period. On the other hand, if a subscription right were granted, the subscription price would have to be published by the third last day of the subscription period. In consideration of the frequently observed volatility on the stock markets, there is therefore a market risk over several days, which leads to security discounts when the terms of the bond are specified. The subscription period also makes it difficult to react quickly to favorable market conditions. In particular in the case of bonds, the granting of a subscription right jeopardizes a successful placement with third parties or leads to additional expenses due to the uncertainty about its exercise. By not setting the issue price of the bonds in such cases substantially below their calculated market value, which is determined in accordance with recognized financial calculation methods, the objective is to meet the shareholders’ need for protection with regard to an economic dilution of their shares. With an issue price at market value, the value of the subscription right practically drops to zero. Shareholders will therefore not be adversely affected by a subscription right exclusion. The Management Board will endeavor to achieve the highest possible issue price and keep the economic difference with the price at which existing shareholders can buy shares on the market as low as possible. Shareholders wishing to maintain their share of the company’s share capital can achieve this by buying them on the market at roughly equal terms. From the shareholders’ point of view, a relevant loss of the shareholding ratio does not apply.
The authorization to issue convertible and/or option bonds with conversion or option rights (including with conversion obligations) but without a subscription right pursuant to Section 186 para. 3 sentence 4 AktG is limited as to its volume as well: The number of shares of the company that may be issued to serve bonds or profit participation rights (whether on the basis of this or any other authorization), that were issued under exclusion of subscription rights may not exceed a total of 10% of the share capital, neither at the time the authorization becomes effective nor, if that amount is lower, at the time the authorization is exercised. The prorated amount of the share capital that is attributable to shares that are issued during the term of this authorization, either on the basis of an authorization by the Management Board to exclude subscription rights in the direct or analogous application of Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 AktG or that are sold as purchased treasury shares in accordance with Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 AktG, must be taken into account with respect to this 10%. This consideration ensures that no convertible and/or option bonds are issued if this would result in a situation in which the subscription right of shareholders is excluded for more than 10% of the share capital in the direct or indirect application of Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 AktG. This further limitation is in the interest of shareholders who wish to maintain their shareholding as much as possible in the event appropriate capital measures are taken; their additional investment may, in such cases, be limited to a maximum of 10% of their shareholding.

(3) Exclusion of the subscription right to the extent necessary to grant holders or creditors of option and/or convertible bonds with option and/or conversion rights or conversion obligations regarding a subscription right for bonds to the extent that they would be entitled to if they exercised their option or conversion rights or if they fulfilled their conversion obligations

Finally, the subscription right is to be excluded to the extent necessary to give the holders or creditors of option and/or convertible bonds issued by the company or its group companies a subscription right for bonds to the extent that they would have been entitled to if they had exercised the option or conversion right or if they had fulfilled a conversion obligation. In order to make bonds easier to place on the capital market, the corresponding option or bond terms usually include dilution protection. One possible dilution protection is to give the holders or creditors of the bonds a subscription right for the bonds from subsequent issues, the same way shareholders are entitled. They are therefore treated as if they were already shareholders. In order to provide bonds with such dilution protection, the shareholders' subscription right to the bonds must be excluded. This serves to facilitate the placement of the bonds and is therefore in the interest of shareholders and the best-possible financial structure of the company.

Alternatively, for the purpose of dilution protection, only the option or conversion price could be reduced to the extent permitted by the terms of the bond. However, this would be more complicated and costly for the company in terms of their settlement. It would also reduce the inflow of capital from the exercise of option and conversion rights. It would also be conceivable to issue bonds without dilution protection. However, these would be much less attractive to the market.

In each individual case, the Management Board and the Supervisory Board will carefully consider whether they will exercise any of the authorizations to issue bonds without a subscription right for shareholders. They will only pursue this possibility if, in the opinion of the Management Board and the Supervisory Board, this is in the best interest of the company and therefore its shareholders.

The Management Board will inform the respectively next shareholders’ meeting of the use of the above authorizations to exclude subscription rights.
3. Written report of the Management Board to the shareholders’ meeting on the partial use of the authorized capital 2015 in January 2020 that excludes the subscription right

On the basis of resolutions passed by the Management Board on 20 January 2020 and 21 January 2020 and the Supervisory Board on 20 January 2020 and 21 January 2020, the authorized capital 2015 (Section 5 of the articles of association) was partially utilized in January 2020 in the amount of EUR 6,857,774.00. The shareholders’ subscription rights were excluded in the context of the increase in the share capital, which took effect when the utilization was registered in the commercial register of the District Court of Frankfurt am Main on 21 January 2020. In the context of this capital increase, the company’s share capital increased by EUR 6,857,774.00 from EUR 72,213,775.00 to EUR 79,071,549.00 by issuing 6,857,774 new, no-par-value registered shares with a prorated share in the share capital of EUR 1.00 each and with a profit participation right as of 1 January 2019 (the “new shares”) in return for a cash contribution. The volume of the capital increase from authorized capital without a subscription right thus corresponds to a prorated share in the share capital of the company of approximately 10% of the share capital based on the share capital available at the time the authorized capital 2015 became effective on 14 July 2015 as well as approximately 9.49% of the share capital available at the time of the partial use of the authorized capital 2015. The volume limitation provided for in the authorized capital 2015 for shares without a subscription right issued in return for a cash contribution was thus complied with. The company had not taken any other measures with respect to this volume limitation.

The new shares were subscribed by the Joh. Berenberg, Gossler & Co. KG (“Berenberg Bank”). The Berenberg Bank was required to place these shares in the context of a private placement with qualified investors by means of an accelerated placement procedure (accelerated bookbuilding). The new shares were issued at the placement price of EUR 16.00 per share in accordance with the decision of the Management Board on 21 January 2020. The Supervisory Board approved this decision by the Management Board on the determination of the placement price by resolution of 21 January 2020. TTL Real Estate GmbH, which is part of the Deutsche Immobilien Chancen Group, and the RAG Foundation have acquired 2,336,248 and 685,777 new shares respectively in the course of the placement process in accordance with their pre-commitments. The new shares were admitted to trading on the regulated market without a prospectus on 22 January 2020 and at the same time to the section of the regulated market with further admission obligations (Prime Standard) of the Frankfurt Stock Exchange and were also included in the existing listing on 23 January 2020. The first trading day of the new shares was 24 January 2020. The gross proceeds from the capital increase amounted to around EUR 110 million. The company intends to use the expected net proceeds from the offer for the company’s further growth strategy, in particular for the financing of acquisitions for the commercial portfolio and for general corporate purposes.

In setting the price, the requirements of Section 203 para. 1 and Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 AktG were complied with. The authorized capital 2015 requires said compliance for the exclusion of the subscription right in the event of a capital increase in the amount of up to 10% of the share capital against cash contributions. The requirement states that the price of the new shares cannot be significantly below the market price of the company’s shares. The specified placement price per share of EUR 16.00 corresponds to a discount of approximately 3% on the XETRA closing price of the company’s shares on the last trading day prior to the price fixing date, which was EUR 16.50. Accordingly, the discount was within the generally accepted legal framework for non-substantial shortfall from the market price.

By excluding the subscription rights of the shareholders, the company made use of a legal option for the exclusion of subscription rights provided for by Section 203 para. 1 and Section 186 para. 3, sentence 4 of the German Stock Corporation Act in the event of capital increases in cash by companies whose shares are traded on an exchange. From the point of view of the Management Board and the Supervisory Board, such a subscription right exclusion was necessary in the present case in order to be able to take advantage of the favorable market situation for such a capital measure at the time of the partial use of the authorized capital 2015 and to achieve the highest possible emission proceeds by setting the price close to the market price. The minimum two-week subscription period which is required when a subscription right is granted (Section 186 para. 1, sentence 2 of the German Stock Corporation Act) would not have allowed a short-term reaction to the current market conditions.

In addition, if a subscription right is granted, the final subscription price must be announced no later than three days before the expiry of the subscription period (Section 186 para. 2, sentence 2 of the German Stock Corporation Act). Due to the longer period between the establishment of the price and the settlement of the capital increase and the volatility of the stock markets, there is therefore a higher market risk and, in particular, price change risk than with an allocation without subscription rights. A successful placement in the context of a capital increase with subscription rights would therefore have required a corresponding haircut of the current market price when setting the price and would therefore probably have led to non-market conditions. For the above reasons, it was in the interest of the company to exclude the subscription rights.

In addition, the interests of shareholders were adequately protected because the price was set close to the current stock exchange price and because the amount of new shares issued without a subscription right is limited to around 10% of the previous share capital. With regard to liquid stock exchange trading, shareholders have the opportunity, in principle, to maintain their relative shareholding in the company by purchasing more shares through the stock exchange at comparable terms. The issue of the new shares close to the current stock market price also ensured that the capital increase did not lead to a significant economic dilution of the shareholders' shareholdings.

Based on the foregoing considerations, the exclusion of the subscription right, which was performed in compliance with the requirements of the authorized capital 2015 during its partial utilization, was overall objectively justified.

The new shares were issued with a profit-participation right as of 1 January 2019. Accordingly, the new shares were already endowed with the same profit-participation rights as the existing shares at the time of issue. This made it unnecessary to assign a separate securities identification number to the new shares for the period up to this year’s shareholders’ meeting. This made it possible to prevent a low trading liquidity of the new shares, which is expected in a stock exchange when traded under a separate securities identification number and which would otherwise make it difficult to market the new shares and might have resulted in price reductions and lower gross issue proceeds. For this reason, it was in the interest of the company to start the profit-participation right at the beginning of the 2019 fiscal year.

Free disposal of shares and transfer of shares in the share register

In relation to the company, Section 67 para. 2, sentence 1 AktG as amended until 3 September 2020 sets forth that only shareholders who are registered as such in the share register are to be deemed shareholders. The status of the share register on the day of the Annual General Meeting is decisive for the right to participate and for the number of voting rights to be held by a person entitled to participate in the Annual General Meeting. Please note that for technical reasons, no transfers of shares will be recorded in the share register between the end of 10 March 2020, 24.00 hours/midnight (the so-called technical record date) and the end of the day of the Annual General Meeting (transfer stop). The status of the share register on the day of the Annual General Meeting therefore corresponds to the status on 10 March 2020, 24.00 hours/midnight.

Registration for the Annual General Meeting does not freeze or block shares. Shareholders can therefore continue to trade their shares freely even after they have registered and despite the transfer stop. However, purchasers of shares whose registration applications are received by the company after 10 March 2020 may only exercise participation rights and voting rights from these shares if they are authorized accordingly by the shareholder still registered in the share register. All purchasers of shares of the company that are not yet registered in the share register are therefore requested to submit registration applications as soon as possible.

Procedure for voting by an authorized representative

Shareholders who do not wish to attend the Annual General Meeting themselves may also exercise their voting rights at the Annual General Meeting by an authorized representative, e.g., an intermediary (who, for example, may be a bank), a shareholders' association, a proxy adviser or any other person of their choice. In these cases, too, registration in the share register and timely registration for the Annual General Meeting in accordance with the above provisions are required.

The declaration granting authorization, its revocation and proof of authorization must be submitted in written text form to the company in accordance with Section 134 para. 3, sentence 3 AktG. The written text form requirement does not and special requirements may apply for the authorization as well as the revocation or proof of such authorization of a shareholders' association, a bank or any other intermediary covered by Section 135 AktG or any other person or institution considered equivalent to these according to Section 135 AktG. Special provisions apply in this case. In such a case, the shareholders are asked to coordinate with the person or institution to be authorized in a timely manner regarding the form of an authorization which may be required as well as the procedure for granting such authorization.

The declaration that authorization was granted may be addressed to the authorized representative or to the company. Proof of authorization granted to the authorized representative may be provided to the company by presenting the authorization at the admission control on the day of the Annual General Meeting. For providing proof of authorization by mail, fax or electronic means (email), the company provides the following address:

c/o Link Market Services GmbH
Landshuter Allee 10

Email: namensaktien@linkmarketservices.de

The abovementioned means of submission are also available if the declaration granting authorization is made to the company; in this case, evidence that authorization was granted is not necessary. The revocation of an authorization already granted may also be declared directly to the company by using the aforementioned means of communication. If submitted by mail or fax, we ask our shareholders to provide the company with all authorizations, evidence of authorization and revocation of authorization by

Monday, 16 March 2020, 24.00 hours/midnight (receipt).

A form that can be used for the granting authorization will be sent to the shareholders together with the invitation and will also be on the admission ticket. Such form is also available for download on the company’s website at http://www.dic-asset.de/general-meeting/. If a shareholder authorizes more than one person, the company may reject one or more of them.

The company offers its shareholders the option to authorize already prior to the Annual General Meeting voting proxies appointed by the company to exercise their voting right. Shareholders wishing to authorize the voting proxies appointed by the company must be registered in the share register in accordance with the provisions above and must register for the Annual General Meeting in time. If authorized, the voting proxies appointed by the company will then exercise the right to vote. Without instructions from the shareholder, the voting proxies appointed by the company are not authorized to exercise voting rights. A form granting authorization and providing instructions to the voting proxies appointed by the company will be sent together with the invitation. Such a form is also available for download on the company’s website at http://www.dic-asset.de/general-meeting/. Authorizations and instructions for the voting proxies appointed by the company must also be sent to the company in written text form.

Shareholders who wish to authorize the voting proxies appointed by the company prior to the Annual General Meeting are asked to grant the authorizations and provide instructions by Proposals sent elsewhere will not be taken into account. The company may refrain from publishing a counterproposal under the conditions set forth in Section 126 para. 2 AktG, for example because the counterproposal would lead to a resolution of the Annual General Meeting in violation of the law or the articles of association. The statement of reasons for a counterproposal need not be made available if it exceeds a total of more than 5,000 characters. For proposals by shareholders for the election of Supervisory Board members and/or auditors, the above sentences apply in accordance with Section 127 AktG. Proposals for the election of Supervisory Board members also do not have to be published if the proposal does not contain information on their membership in other statutory supervisory boards.

It should be noted that counterproposals and proposals for election, even if they have been forwarded to the company in advance, will only be considered at the Annual General Meeting if they are presented or submitted there verbally. The right of each shareholder to submit counterproposals with respect to the various items on the agenda or election proposals during the Annual General Meeting even without a prior submission to the company remains unaffected.

Right to information pursuant to Section 131 para. 1 AktG

Following a verbal request made during the Annual General Meeting according to Section 131 para. 1 AktG, the Management Board must provide each shareholder with information about the company’s affairs insofar as the information is required for a correct assessment of the agenda item. The obligation to provide information also extends to the company’s legal and commercial relationships with an affiliated company as well as to the situation of the group and the companies included in the consolidated financial statements.

The Management Board may refrain from answering individual questions for the reasons set out in Section 131 para. 3 AktG, for example because the provision of the information is, according to a reasonable commercial assessment, liable to inflict a considerable disadvantage on the company or an affiliated company. Pursuant to section 13 para. 3 of the articles of association, the chairman of the meeting may limit the shareholders’ right to ask and speak to a reasonable amount of time.

2. For what purposes and on what legal basis will your data be processed?

We process your personal data in compliance with the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), the German Federal Data Protection Act (BDSG), the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG) and all other relevant legislation.

The shares of DIC Asset AG are no-par-value registered shares. With regard to such registered shares, Section 67 of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG), as applicable until 3 September 2020, provides that such shares must be entered in the company’s share register, indicating the name, date of birth and the address of the shareholder and the number of shares. The shareholder is in general required to provide this information to the company. If you do not agree to provide this information, you cannot be entered in the share register and cannot exercise your rights as a shareholder.

The banks involved in the acquisition, custody or sale of your DIC shares regularly forward this information as well as other information relevant to the management of the share register to the share register (e.g., nationality, gender and submitting bank). This is done through Clearstream Banking AG, Frankfurt, Germany, which as the central securities depository, handles the technical settlement of securities transactions as well as the custody of shares for intermediaries (such as banks).
DIC Asset AG processes your personal data only for the purposes stated in the German Stock Corporation Act. This includes the management of the share register, communication with shareholders and the organization of shareholders’ meetings.

In connection with the Annual General Meeting, DIC Asset AG processes your personal data so that shareholders can register for and participate in the Annual General Meeting (e.g. examination of eligibility) and so that shareholders can exercise their rights during the Annual General Meeting (including the issuance, the revocation or the substantiation of authorizations and instructions). If you do not provide the relevant data, you will not be able to participate in the Annual General Meeting or to exercise voting rights or other rights related to the meeting. This includes the following processing operations:

In the course of the registration of a shareholder for the Annual General Meeting, DIC Asset AG processes the data required for the share register as well as the data provided by the shareholder or transferred for this occasion by its custodian bank (in particular first and last names, place of residence or address, number of shares, class of shares, ticket number and type of ownership).

Insofar as participation in the Annual General Meeting is by proxy, we process the personal data of the shareholder as well as the first and last name and place of residence or address of the authorized representative as specified in the authorization. In the event authorizations and instructions are given to a proxy designated by DIC, the instructions issued are also processed, and the authorization will be kept on file by the company for three years.

At the Annual General Meeting, a list of participants with the following personal data will be kept in accordance with Section 129 of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG): the number of the admission ticket, first and last name and place of residence of the attending or represented shareholder and, if applicable, the shareholder’s representative, number of shares, class of shares, number of voting rights and type of ownership.

If a shareholder requests that items be placed on the agenda, DIC Asset AG will, if the requirements of the stock corporation law are met, publish these items together with the name of the shareholder. In the same way, DIC Asset AG will make counterproposals and election proposals of shareholders available on the website of DIC Asset AG, if the requirements of the stock exchange law are met, together with the name of the shareholder (Section 122 para. 2, Section 126 para. 1, and Section 127 AktG).
In addition, your personal data may also be processed, if necessary, in order to fulfil other legal obligations such as regulatory requirements and retention obligations under the German Stock Corporation Law, Commercial Code or Tax Code.

The legal basis for the processing of your personal data is the German Stock Corporation Act in conjunction with Art. 6 para. 1 lit. c and para. 4 GDPR.

In some cases, DIC Asset AG also processes your information in order to safeguard the legitimate interests of DIC Asset AG or a third party in accordance with Art. 6 paragraph 1 lit. f GDPR. This is the case, for example, when, in the event of capital increases individual shareholders have to be excluded from information on subscription offers due to their nationality or residence in order to avoid violating the legal provisions of the relevant countries. We also use your personal data to compile in-house statistics (e.g. for the presentation of shareholder development, the number of transactions or for overviews of the largest shareholders).

If we intend to process your personal data for another purpose, you will be informed in advance within the scope of the statutory provisions.

3. With which categories of recipients, if any, will your data be shared?
